

The Mystery of the Missing Member

A worried patient visits a urologist to solve a troubling mystery.

By Peter Mangiaracina

THE WAITING ROOM IS BUSY. THE RECEPTIONIST IS SITTING AT HER DESK TRYING TO ORGANIZE DR. JUAREZ DEL DAGO'S APPOINTMENTS. A MAN BURSTS INTO THE ROOM AND GOES UP TO THE DESK

BOB

I need to see the doctor right away!

RECEPTIONIST

First of all, good morning.

BOB

Yes. Sorry. Good morning. I need to see the doctor right away.

RECEPTIONIST

Do you have an appointment?

BOB

No. But it's an emergency. I need to see the doctor right away!

RECEPTIONIST

I am sorry. But as you can see, there are many people waiting to see the doctor. If you would like to wait, I will see if the doctor can see you, but it may take some time. He is very busy today.

BOB

But this is an emergency! I demand to see the doctor right now!

RECEPTIONIST

I'm sorry, sir, but if it is an emergency, you should go to the emergency room at the nearest hospital. This is a private consultation office. People make appointments, and they come at their scheduled times.

BOB

But I told you: this is an emergency! I have to see the doctor right now!

The doctor heard all the noise and comes into the waiting room.

DOCTOR

What seems to be the problem here? I am trying to work and there is a lot of noise.

RECEPTIONIST

This man came here without an appointment and he is demanding to see you right now.

BOB

It's an emergency!

DOCTOR

All right sir. Calm down. Come with me.

The doctor takes Bob into the consultation room. The doctor sits at his desk, and Bob sits in a chair.

DOCTOR

OK. what is your name sir?

BOB

Bob. Bob Fallopian.

DOCTOR

OK, Mr. Fallopian. Now tell me. What is the problem?

BOB

My penis! It's gone! I haven't seen it since last month.

DOCTOR

Penises don't just disappear, Mr. Fallopian. You must be mistaken.

BOB

It's gone, I tell you! One month ago it was there, and and when I checked today, it was gone!

DOCTOR

OK. Remove your pants and let's take a look.

The patient removes his clothes. The doctor takes one quick look at him and realizes the problem.

DOCTOR

Have you gained a lot of weight recently?

BOB

Yes. I have been drinking a lot of beer and I have been eating a lot of pizza.

DOCTOR

Why?

BOB

Well, the Italian Restaurant is the only place that delivers food in my neighborhood during the pandemic.

DOCTOR

I understand. The problem is, sir, that you have gained a lot of weight, and your stomach is so big that now you can't see your penis. But I assure you it's there!

The doctor holds up a mirror so that Bob can see his penis under his protruding stomach.

BOB

My penis! There it is! Thank God,

(Speaking to his penis)

I thought I lost you, Little Elvis!
